

VARIETY

A photograph of Channing Tatum sitting in a worn, brown leather armchair. He is wearing a light-colored, long-sleeved sweater and light-colored trousers. He is barefoot and looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. The background is a wall of vertical wooden planks, and the floor is also made of wood.

The Zen of
CHANNING TATUM

HE'S BEEN PRODUCING,
WRITING — AND SCULPTING.
HERE'S WHY HE NEEDED A BREAK FROM BEING A MOVIE STAR.

By Ramin
Setoodeh

Mike D, Kid Cudi Front Levi's '90s Nostalgia Campaign

By Lesley McKenzie

If anyone epitomizes creativity and authenticity, it's Mike D (above). The Beastie Boys founding member is one of seven artists tapped to star in Levi's campaign for the latest iteration of its most famous style — the 501 '90s jean. "I remember being 12 or 13 years old, looking at photos of the Clash and how they customized their jeans. Rolled them up with thick cuffs. Sometimes bleached them," Mike D tells Variety, remembering his first pair of Levi's. "They were also ripped and I think sometimes had safety pins. To me, at that age, it seemed beyond cool." Also featured in the campaign: hip-hop artist Kid Cudi, model Nathan Westling, stylist Gabriella Karefa-Johnson, stylist and influencer Gia Seo, artist-designer Tremaine Emory and model-musician Staz Lindes of punk band the Paranoyds. levi.com

Louis Vuitton has grown its footprint at the Beverly Center (8500 Beverly Blvd.) with a newly designed boutique. A reflection of the brand's commitment to craftsmanship and heritage, the space showcases work from locally and internationally renowned artists, including an abstract painting by L.A.-based Erin D. Garcia and a collage work by British painter Russell Frampton. Now larger, the store houses an expanded selection of women's and men's ready-to-wear, along with accessories, fragrances and jewelry.

Yoo-hoo! Minnie Mouse is finally the one wearing the pants around here. Timed to the 30th anniversary of Disneyland Paris, the cartoon icon is trading in her red dress for a pantsuit in March, coinciding with Women's History Month. Created by Stella McCartney, the progressive look is a riff on the British designer's signature blue tuxedo — fashioned in responsibly sourced fabrics and complete with the Disney damsel's trademark polka dots. ☺

Inside Four Seasons Beverly Hills' New Director Suite

By Malina Saval

Whether you're a big-shot Hollywood helmer or hankering to pretend you're one, the brand-new Director Suite at Four Seasons Hotel Los Angeles at Beverly Hills (300 Doheny Dr.) will set you up in high-flying style. The 10th-floor luxury accommodations, modeled after the famed hotel's residences, are awash in shafts of soft California sunlight, with three step-out balconies providing sweeping views of the rolling Hollywood hills and downtown Los Angeles in the distance. At night, with its twinkling lights and flashing neon signs, it's a vista sprung from a classic 1940s film noir. The spacious one-bedroom suite comes equipped with a dining room area, a custom walk-in closet and a full kitchen stocked with Fortessa Bone China flatware and Gaggenau refrigerator and stove. Along with unlimited complimentary in-room TV entertainment, guests booking the Director Suite get a discount on use of the hotel's private screening room. Before retiring for the night in the cloud-like bed, fitted with Supima cotton linen sheets, head to the Statuario marble-lined bathroom for a rejuvenating, bubbly soak in the deep, free-standing tub. Rates start at $3,770 per night. fourseasons.com/losangeles 🍷

WHERE I'M EATING

Isabelle Fuhrman
Actor, "The Novice"

Daichan
11288 Ventura Blvd., Ste. F, Studio City
"It's Japanese soul food. They make really good poke and rice bowls."